

University of Puerto Rico
Río Piedras Campus
SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE

TENURE-TRACK TEACHING POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT

The School of Architecture, at the Río Piedras Campus of the University of Puerto Rico, is interested in recruiting for a tenure track teaching position, effective on January 2, 2023.

Requirements:

1. Professional degree in architecture, Master's, or Doctoral degree granted by a recognized and accredited institution.
2. Minimum of three (3) years of teaching experience offering architectural design courses and courses specifically focused on research methodologies applied to architecture and aimed at examining traditional, innovative and/or emergent aspects of the profession, at the undergraduate and/or graduate level in a recognized and accredited architecture school.
3. Preferably with demonstrated experience in research applied to architecture and/or interdisciplinary areas related to the profession.
4. Minimum of five (5) years of professional experience in the practice of architecture (design, construction documents development and/or construction management).
5. Preferably with an active professional license in architecture.
6. Capacity to direct and counsel master's thesis and research.
7. Capacity for in person and online teaching.
8. Experience in research, creative work, and architectural work.
9. Commitment to pursue external funding.
10. Publications in candidate's area of expertise.

Responsibilities:

The tasks that correspond to this teaching position include teaching architectural design courses and other specialized in-person and online courses, availability to offer weekend and evening courses, at undergraduate and graduate levels, with a demonstrated particular interest in emergent architectural production, research, and publications in the candidate's area of expertise, mentoring, participation in academic committees, and administrative support as part of the contractual obligations.

The recruited teacher will be responsible for offering architectural design courses specifically focused on research methodologies applied to architecture and aimed at examining traditional, innovative and/or emergent aspects of the profession, as well as forge collaborations and apply for interdisciplinary research funding with industries and institutions related to the discipline of architecture and construction.

Required Documents: *

1. Letter of intent.
2. Updated Curriculum Vitae of maximum (5) pages.
3. Official professional and academic credentials of all degrees.
4. Evidence of Master and/or Doctoral thesis supervision and/or counseling, as well as courses offered at university level indicating modality: in-person, online and/or hybrid.
5. Evidence of recent presentations at conferences, publications, and research work.
6. Portfolio of professional and creative work.
7. Teaching and Research philosophy statements, maximum one (1) page each philosophy.
8. Statement of intention to pursue external funding.
9. Two recommendation letters.

*All submitted documents must have an English or Spanish translation.

Deadline for receiving documents: October 2, 2022

Documents must be digitally sent using the following email: applicant.architecture@upr.edu

The required documents should be delivered digitally, in a single file (maximum 32 MB) and following the order established in the previous list.

For more information access <http://earq.uprrp.edu/>, write to escuela.arquitectura@upr.edu, or call 787-764-0000, extensions 87804/87806 with Mrs. Eneida Hernández.

Mayra Jiménez Montano, PhD

Dean

School of Architecture

Date August 30, 2022

Nivia A. Fernández Hernández, EdD

Acting Dean for Academic Affairs

Date 31 de agosto de 2022

The University of Puerto Rico is an equal employment/affirmative action employer.